CHILD ABUSE IS NOT A HOPELESS CAUSE.

IN FACT,
WE SPENT EVERY DAY OF THE LAST YEAR
CREATING REAL-LIFE SUCCESS STORIES.

The Kempe Foundation for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect
Annual Report FY2012
Dear Friends,

This has been a year of celebrating where we are and also recognizing the enormous milestones that paved the way. This year marked the 40th anniversary of The Kempe Center and the 50th anniversary of the publication of The Battered Child Syndrome. Both were the lifework of Dr. C. Henry Kempe and truly gave a voice to children suffering from abuse and neglect. Before Dr. Kempe’s tireless work, there were no laws, no guidelines, and no precedence to protect our children.

Five decades later, things are much improved and yet so many children are still suffering everywhere we look. This year, stories of child abuse and neglect continued to fill our papers and lead the evening news. Though child abuse and neglect figures are slightly lower this year than last, even one abused child is too many and impactful change requires all of us to work together to protect our children.

In FY12 we made a real difference in the lives of so many children and found new ways to create impactful change in our community and beyond. This year, The Kempe Center provided direct services for 1,342 children— a 72 percent increase from last year. Though fewer numbers of children were maltreated in 2011, the need continues to rise for services and treatment.

• We trained more than 8,600 current and future professionals, social workers, child welfare workers, police officers, attorneys and other professionals who work on behalf of children throughout the U.S. and the world.

• We expanded the IMHOFF Clinic to provide mental health treatment to children and families who are dealing with the behavioral consequences of abuse and neglect.

• We celebrated ten years of amazing mentoring through Fostering Healthy Futures, a nine-month program for children ages 9-11 in foster care. In FY2013, we will welcome Phase II that will work with teens.

• We continued to offer our highly specialized training and services to five state agencies’ workers with the launch of the DIBS grant (see page 6).

• We expanded our internal resources by adding new staff from the American Humane Association and other institutions who offer expertise in systems and welfare, and brought many new programs to the center.

Working alongside our individual, community, foundation, government and corporate friends, The Kempe Foundation raised more than $2 million to continue our mission. Together, we saw the successes of a variety of fundraising events including Kempe Takes Hong Kong, Salt on the Rim, IPS280’s (now MegaPath) Climbing for Kids, and the first annual DECA telephone fundraiser.

We continued to raise awareness through campaigns such as Never Shake a Baby (in partnership with Children’s Hospital Colorado and Kohl’s Cares for Kids), and Kempe Superhero PSAs during Child Abuse Prevention month. We maintained strong advocacy outreach on behalf of abused and neglected children through direct communications with our legislative leaders to reaffirm Kempe’s expertise.

As we honor Dr. Kempe and the important milestones achieved during this double anniversary year, we are proud of our accomplishments in Colorado, throughout the country and across the globe.

Around here, we believe in the word hope.

We are dedicated to bringing much-needed hope to the children we serve – giving them the opportunity to live their lives to their greatest potential. Thank you for helping us fight tirelessly to end the cycle of abuse.

Your encouragement and support fuel our passion to tackle the next challenges, and assure we will never quit fighting for those who do not have a voice. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Patricia Peterson, B.S.N., J.D.  Des Runyan, MD, DrPH
AT EVERY LEVEL OF OUR ORGANIZATION, WE ARE DEDICATED TO CREATING NEW CHAPTERS FOR ABUSED CHILDREN, AND NEW SUCCESS STORIES FOR THEIR FUTURE.

THE KEMPE FOUNDATION IS THE FUNDRAISING ARM FOR THE KEMPE CENTER.

TOGETHER, WE ARE PROVIDING WORLD-CLASS CARE THAT IS CHANGING THE LIVES OF ABUSED AND NEGLECTED CHILDREN IN OUR COMMUNITY AND BEYOND.

The Kempe Foundation’s Mission
The Kempe Foundation will increase awareness, engage in advocacy and secure and provide resources for the prevention and treatment of child abuse. To fulfill our mission, The Kempe Foundation provides financial support for the programs of The Kempe Center.

The Kempe Center’s Mission
The Kempe Center treats abused children, trains professionals, and conducts research to ensure a healthy and hopeful future for these innocent victims. Every child seen at The Kempe Center is in the hands of the nation’s leading experts on child abuse. The Kempe Center will provide and improve direct clinical services, improve clinical service delivery systems, and provide training, education and consultation programs to prevent and treat child abuse and neglect in Colorado and throughout the nation.
THE KEMPE CENTER’S HIGHLY SPECIALIZED PROGRAMS ARE LEADING THE WAY IN HOW THE WORLD RECOGNIZES, TREATS AND PREVENTS ABUSE AND NEGLECT.

WE ARE PROUDLY CARRYING ON DR. KEMPE’S VISION AND HIS PASSION. WE ARE GIVING A VOICE TO EVEN THE YOUNGEST OF VICTIMS.

The Kempe Child Protection Team – Offers comprehensive, multidisciplinary consultation assessment, treatment, and referral services for children and adolescents who may have been physically or sexually abused or neglected. This is a joint program of The Kempe Center and Children’s Hospital Colorado in the University of Colorado School of Medicine’s Department of Pediatrics.

The Kempe Trauma Program – Gives trauma exposed children access to the highest quality mental health treatment by providing evidence-based clinical services, training of professionals, and collaborating with the National Child Traumatic Stress Network to bring expertise from all over the United States to Colorado families.

The Kempe Fostering Healthy Futures Program – Mentors and fosters resilience and promotes success for pre-adolescents and teens who have been placed in foster care following child abuse and neglect.

The Kempe Perpetration Prevention Program – Reduces the risk of children being abusive as children, as adolescents and ultimately, as the next generation of adults by promoting primary, secondary and tertiary perpetration prevention strategies.

The Kempe Training, Education and Consultation Program – Provides training, education and consultation services to help audiences within Colorado and across the country prevent and treat child abuse and neglect.

Improving Mental Health OF Families (IMHOFF) Clinic: Under the leadership of Executive Director Dr. Des Runyan, The Kempe Center began offering more comprehensive and extensive mental health clinic services to children and families in February 2012, and is treating more abused children than ever before to help break the generational cycle of abuse and neglect.

SUCCESS STORIES NEED CO-AUTHORS. THESE GENEROUS PARTNERS ARE HELPING US TO RE-WRITE THE FUTURE FOR ABUSED AND NEGLECTED CHILDREN.

EDUCATING THE PUBLIC ABOUT CHILD ABUSE AND NEGLECT PREVENTION AND CREATING MORE SERVICES FOR MORE VICTIMS.

The Anschutz Foundation
The Anschutz Foundation’s generous grant sustains general operations support for The Kempe Foundation and Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect. This ongoing commitment on behalf of maltreated children and their families and caregivers is exemplary in our community. The grant is vital to help Kempe’s clinicians and researchers to provide more direct services to more young victims, train professionals in our area of expertise, and promote public awareness in our prevention initiatives to preclude abuse and neglect.

HELPING CHILDREN AGES 9 to 11 GAIN CONFIDENCE, LIFE SKILLS AND HOPE.

The Daniels Fund continues to demonstrate its respect for and confidence in Kempe’s Fostering Healthy Futures Program (FHF) by supporting clinical services for children ages 9 to 11 who have been placed in foster care due to maltreatment. These children benefit from an academic year-long program where they receive assessments for better targeting of comprehensive services, participate in weekly skills groups, get individualized mentoring by graduate students who are supervised by FHF staff, and participate in career shadowing. They also have the chance to hear from adults who have experienced out-of-home placements and have gone on to become contributing members of society.

INCREASING THE INCREDIBLE CARE AND LIFE-CHANGING SUPPORT FOR CHILDREN WHO HAVE BEEN ABUSED OR NEGLECTED.

The Timothy and Bernadette Marquez Foundation has funded a new grant for Kempe’s Child Protection Team (CPT) which is now in its 54th year of providing comprehensive, multidisciplinary consultation, assessment, treatment and referral services for children and adolescents who may have been sexually or physically abused or neglected. CPT’s physicians are among the first in the country - and among the only ones in Colorado - to be board-certified in the field of Child Abuse Pediatrics by the American Board of Pediatrics.
OUR SUCCESS IS MEASURED BY THE SUCCESS OF THE CHILDREN WE SERVE.

THE MORE WE CAN DO FOR THEM, THE MORE WE HAVE ACCOMPLISHED OUR GOALS.

The Kempe Center’s IMHOFF Clinic Opens

Forty years ago, Dr. C. Henry Kempe would bring as many as four Denver families at a time into his tiny clinic on Jasmine Street to be guided in a special kind of therapy: rebuilding parent-child relationships.

Today, his vision lives on in a big way. Our new clinic, named for long-time Kempe supporter and board member Walt Imhoff, is now open in the 38,000-square-foot Gary Pavilion on the Anschutz Medical Campus. “It is a much larger space” says Dr. Runyan, “and still has the same wonderful purpose. It is a place filled with children and parents needing help with reconnection.”

The Center is recommitting itself to addressing the long-term consequences of maltreatment and is expanding its capacity to provide acute counseling and evidence-based mental health treatment services to children and families.

“The major long-term consequences of child abuse are psychological,” Runyan said. “Kempe is committed to serving the needs of maltreated children and helping restore them to their full potential.”

Through the IMHOFF Clinic, families have access to leading treatments in the field, including parent-child interaction therapy and trauma-focused cognitive behavioral therapy. The clinic is led by providers Dr. Bill Betts, Laura Eccles, Dr. Deborah Carter, and their colleagues in psychology and psychiatry at the Center.

The Clinic began taking in new children in April 2012, and will continue with expansion with hopes of serving as many children and families in need as possible.

“We want to fill The Kempe Center with children getting the best treatment in the world,” said Patricia Peterson. “We know the need is great. But we also know that they have a unique place here for healing.”

According to Peterson, Walt Imhoff has always understood that changes in health care financing make it difficult for families to afford mental health services on their own. “His commitment to creating a place where children and families can come together and work toward a better future together is steadfast. Everyone at Kempe is grateful for his support.”

Prevent Child Abuse
America estimates that child maltreatment costs society nearly $124 billion a year. That includes the immediate costs put on the child welfare, medical and law enforcement systems. But more significantly, it also includes the chronic health problems and lost productivity of abuse victims as they grow up.
New Kempe Center grant to help child welfare professionals.

We are excited to kick off a new effort to help child welfare professionals in Denver thanks to a five-year, $3.2 million grant from the Administration on Children, Youth and Families – a division of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services. The grant funds the Developing Integrated Behavioral Health Services (DIBS) project.

The DIBS project is a partnership between five different agencies: Denver Department of Human Services, Denver Health and Hospital Authority, Mental Health Center of Denver, Access Behavioral Care and The Kempe Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect. The Kempe Foundation for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect acts as the fiscal agency for this project.

The three-year project integrates behavioral healthcare into Denver Health’s Connections for Kids Clinic, a pediatric primary care practice that serves all children in foster care in Denver County. This project has embedded two Mental Health Center of Denver clinicians in the Connections for Kids Clinic. These clinicians provide behavioral health screening, brief intervention and referral for children seen through the clinic. Since behavioral health screening is provided at every well child visit, the data collected by this project will help us develop more effective interventions to meet the needs of children in foster care.

We are also using a portion of the grant to fund the Kempe-Denver Trauma Informed Services Project which aims to train child welfare service providers on the impact of child trauma and present strategies to identify, prevent, intervene and treat trauma exposure and trauma-related stress.

Adding the expertise and shared passion of the American Humane Association

In 2012, we welcomed ten former associates of the American Humane Association to The Kempe Center. Since 1877, the historic American Humane Association has promoted major advancements in protecting children and animals from abuse and neglect. These professionals bring an impressive array of experience and groundbreaking research findings to The Kempe Center. Their work is synergistic with current Kempe programs and additional areas of their work, practice areas and research will include: Differential Response, Family Group Decision Making, Fatherhood Initiative, Disparities in Child Welfare, Kids’ Safety and Assessment and more.

Bringing these practice areas to The Kempe Center’s already extensive list of highly specialized programs will allow us to do an even better job treating more children, caregivers and professionals who are working with abused and neglected children.

“It is a perfect collaboration to have the incredible experience of these individuals from the American Humane Association here at Kempe,” said Dr. Runyan. “With the recent and dramatic expansion in access to our mental health services, we can provide top-notch care with added expertise in systems and child welfare.”
OUR SUCCESS STORIES START BY RAISING MONEY TO RAISE HOPE AND AWARENESS.

Salt on the Rim 2011
The lush, landscaped grounds of Kent Denver set the scene for Salt on the Rim, the annual fundraiser hosted by The Kempe Foundation Alliance. The evening was an elegant success as nearly 300 guests sipped several flavors of margaritas and enjoyed a variety of entrees from Brio, Kona Grill, Pappadeaux, Lioni, Zink, Lime and Chinook restaurants. Guests could also buy “virtual swings” at piñatas to win fantastic prizes and raise money for Kempe.

The event was chaired by a tireless and loyal team of volunteers: Paul Heitzenrater, John Farnam, Lawrence French, Gregory Sargowicki and Sandee Walling. Nearly $40,000 was raised during the evening on behalf of The Kempe Foundation.

Climb for Kempe
IP5820 (Now Megapath) 6th Annual Climbing for Kids supporting Children’s Hospital Colorado and The Kempe Foundation for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect took place at Mount Bierstadt. The event has raised more than $52,000 for the two charities.

2011 Colorado Gives Day
Our participation in the 3rd annual Colorado Gives Day raised more than $30,000 for The Kempe Foundation. We appreciate the unwavering generosity of our community and their devotion to the children we serve.

Kempe’s First Annual Telethon
Kempe board member Patrice Gendelman spearheaded a first-ever Kempe telephone fundraiser on February 9 with the help of dozens of volunteer students from Cherry Creek High School’s DECA Club. In honor of The Kempe Center’s 40th anniversary, on the 40th day of the year, volunteers sought donations of $40, $400, or other increments of $4. Students raised an amazing $22,473 for abused and neglected children.

Throughout the day we met many poised, intelligent and gracious students. Kempe Foundation CEO and President Pat Peterson remarked that the crop of outstanding young people gives us great hope for our future. A special thank you to the Cherry Creek High School teachers and leaders for hosting us and supporting The Kempe Foundation.

We got the word out with the help of Colorado & Company and KOSI 101.1, as well as many supporters who gave out flyers and sent emails to friends and family.

Kempe Takes Hong Kong was an imperial success.
More than 600 guests gathered for our largest fundraiser of the year chaired by Jack and Adrienne Fitzgibbons. Our annual gala took place at the Denver Downtown Marriott and welcomed traditional Asian lion dancers and the main act, The Silhouettes, a local dance group famous for their many performances on “America’s Got Talent” last season.

Ed Greene of CBS 4 served as Master of Ceremonies and presented The Professional Award to Dr. Andrew Sirotnak, director of The Kempe Center’s Child Protection Team and director of the Child Abuse Pediatrics Fellowship Program. The Community Award recipient was Jon Kruljac, longtime Kempe supporter and past Kempe Foundation board chairman.

It was a festive celebration but ultimately the evening was all about the children and the critical work happening at The Kempe Center. This year’s event raised more than $200,000 thanks to generous donations by guests, donors and sponsors.
2012 AWARENESS & ADVOCACY

RAISING OUR VOICES SO THAT THE NEEDS OF ALL CHILDREN CAN BE HEARD.

Child Abuse Awareness Month

The Kempe Foundation recognized national Child Abuse Prevention Month in April 2012 with an awareness campaign and events. The campaign promoted the role that everyone plays in keeping Colorado’s children safe. Activities and promotions included:

- Public service awareness campaign throughout April included billboards, television, radio, magazine and newspaper features.
- Kempe placed giant blue ribbons on buildings throughout the Denver metro area including the Capitol, City & County Building, Pepsi Center, Children’s Hospital Colorado, Buckley Air Force Base and The Gary Pavilion.
- In conjunction with Children’s Hospital Colorado, Kempe produced the lighting of the ribbon canopy ceremony in Skyline Park in downtown Denver on March 31 to kick-off Child Abuse Awareness Month and recognize the thousands of children affected by child abuse and neglect annually in Colorado.
- More than 600 Anschutz Medical Campus employees received complimentary blueberry bagels from Panera Bread at the beginning of Child Abuse Prevention Month.
- Thousands of blue ribbon magnets, blue ribbon pins, brochures and Kempe keychain wristbands were distributed throughout metro Denver.

2012 Superheroes

The 2012 Superheroes of our campaign included Cara Cooper (Colorado Ballet), Casey Connor (Colorado Avalanche), Michael Hancock (Mayor of Denver), Vonn Miller (Denver Broncos), Cheryl Preheim (9News), John Grant Jr. (Colorado Mammoth).

U.S. Bank sponsored the 2012 Superheroes for the second consecutive year. This additional funding allowed Kempe to increase its media buy for additional airing of the public service announcements. Superhero posters were also placed in all U.S. Bank branches throughout metro Denver.

Powerful Shaken Baby Campaign

In FY12, The Kempe Center again expanded the Shaken Baby Syndrome Awareness and Prevention/How to Calm a Crying Child Campaign in partnership with Children’s Hospital Colorado and Kohl’s Cares for Kids. Additionally, an education research component is underway in two hospitals to test the knowledge of caregivers about Shaken Baby Syndrome and the effect of education. SBS is a leading cause of trauma death for children under the age of two in Colorado.

In 1989, the Blue Ribbon Campaign to Prevent Child Abuse started as a Virginia grandmother’s tribute to her grandson, who died as a result of abuse.

She tied a blue ribbon to the antenna of her car as a way to remember him and to alert her community to the tragedy of child abuse.

Today, we use the blue ribbon to remind everyone that child abuse and neglect can be stopped and all of us must come together to help educate, prevent and heal.

KEMPE CENTER METRICS
OUR NUMBERS TELL A BIG STORY.

The Kempe Center

In FY12, six areas of service at The Kempe Center provided direct services for 1,342 children, directly served 451 parents and caregivers; and consulted, trained, and presented to 8,643 professionals. Kempe provided direct services to children and/or trained professionals from 38 Colorado counties, 26 additional states and Washington, D.C., and four other countries including Canada, Germany, Hong Kong and Iceland.

Direct Services for Children

Direct services to children included: medical assessment and treatment, mental health therapy, a mentoring curriculum, case consultation, injury assessments, comprehensive mental health assessments, and other treatment. The number of children directly served by Kempe professionals increased over the previous fiscal year, from 781 in FY11 to 1,342 in FY12. Kempe also increased direct services of counseling and therapy to adults from 175 in FY11 to 451 in FY12. Most of these adults were caregivers (biological parents, grandparents, foster parents, other kinship, significant others) of children treated at Kempe.

Training, Presentations and Consultations

Kempe was involved with training, educating and consulting more than 8,643 individuals in FY12 with more than 26,010 “people training hours” provided. This is a 24 percent increase from the number of individuals trained in FY11. These were direct contact presentations at workshops, university classes, job sites, community locations, and national and international conferences. Kempe’s collaborations with these professionals also included consultations with other providers, meeting with caseworkers, testifying in court, serving on panels and task forces, and other related work on behalf of children and caregivers.

The Kempe Foundation

The Kempe Foundation’s three-fold mission is to secure and provide resources, increase awareness, and engage in advocacy for The Kempe Center for the Prevention and Treatment of Child Abuse and Neglect.

Resources

In FY12, Kempe raised $1,718,295 in new money for annual operations. Included in this total, Kempe received “in-kind” donations with a value of $103,677 for enrichment materials, supplies and activities in support of Kempe’s children and caregivers. In addition, the Foundation collected more than $326,000 in past due pledges, making our FY12 total earnings in excess of $2 million dollars.

Volunteers’ commitment provided 2,775 (a value of $55,346) hours of service of immeasurable value to Kempe’s efforts last year. These hours included front desk coverage at The Kempe Center, child care, event planning, event production and on-site management, graphic design, printing, accounting, consulting and many other services.

In FY12, Kempe received financial contributions from 2,347 donors (individuals, foundations, corporations or government agencies), that contributed to or awarded grants or contracts to support Kempe’s programs and activities. This was a slight increase from the number of donors in FY11.

The complete Kempe Metrics Report is available at kempe.org/aboutkempe.

Public Awareness

In FY12, The Kempe Foundation had 63 total news/editorial stories in newspapers, magazines, radio and television newscasts. (These news stories do not include paid spots or public service announcements.) Throughout the year, Kempe appeared in the Denver Post, The Villager, Aurora Sentinel, Denver Business Journal, 5280, Colorado & Company, 9News, Channel 7 News, Colorado Expression, Blacktie Colorado, Lowry News, Colorado Biz Magazine, and a variety of online magazines and blogs.

Kempe’s television broadcast partner during Child Abuse Prevention Month, 9News, ran six different Superhero public service announcements in April. The value of the public service announcements was more than $50,000. The spots also ran on Rocky Mountain PBS and on radio station KOSI 101.1.

The Kempe Foundation’s website and social media efforts expanded and grew in FY12. The website continues to serve as a resource to provide Center and program information, current news, options for making donations, and helpful resources for professionals and the public who may be experiencing abuse or neglect. Kempe’s social media presence on Facebook, Twitter, YouTube and Wordpress Blog continued to draw new users during the last fiscal year. The social media and website tools, combined with e-communications, allow Kempe to communicate with donors, volunteers and professionals through a variety of communication methods.

Advocacy

A key part of the Foundation’s mission is to advocate on behalf of abused and neglected children by working with state and local leaders to develop public policy that serves in the best interest of this vulnerable population. Kempe representatives helped draft legislation, testified before legislative committees and monitored child abuse-related bills during the past session. Kempe’s distribution of April is Child Abuse Prevention Month information was helpful to legislators and their staffs as they communicated with their constituents.

In FY2012, advocacy proclamations, resolutions and activities included:

- Proclamation from Governor John Hickenlooper.
- Presentation of blue ribbon pins to the entire Colorado legislature with Kempe literature in honor of Child Abuse Awareness Month.
